Commissioner-General Sargent Says If This Continues in 134 Years We Will Have 950,000,000 Population - Allens Brought $35,000,000 Into the Country.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15 .- "With an increase to our population by immigration of 1,000,000 per annum, which is less than the present rate, and the present rate of natural increase, the United States would reach the density of China in about four generations, or, more particularly, in 134 years, at which time we would have a popuion of $50,000,000."

This interesting statement is made in the annual report of Frank P. Sargent, Commissioner-General of Immigration, covering the fiscal year 1907, ended June 30 last. To it he adds:

"This is in no sense an estimate of future copulation; it is simply an illustration of the present pace." Important recommendations looking to further amendment of the laws governing the admission of aliens are incorporated in Commissioner Sargent's report. Among other recommendations made by him are the following: That legislation beadopted to check violations of the immigration laws by professed That public health and marine hospital surgeons be stationed at the principal foreign ports of embarkation to examine all aliens applying for passage to the United States; That arrangements be made for placing on board a number of the large transatlantic liners female inspectors, thoroughly qualified and equipped with a knowledge of foreign languages, charged with the duty of inter-mingling with the female steerage passengers and making their acquaintance, the object being thus to assist in preventing the im-portation of women for immoral purposes: That either by the adoption of, additional egislation or by international agreement arrangement be perfected by which the detection of members of the criminal class may be assured, preferably a requirement that, as a prerequisite to examination aliene shall present passports granted to them by their own Governments;

their own Governments;
That an international conference on emigration and immigration, for the holding of which provision is made in the new immigration act, be called at the earliest practi-

He also urges that appropriations be made for certain improvements demanded by existing conditions at Ellis Island, notably the construction of a new ferry-boat, of a new refrigerating plant, the dradging of a part of the harbor, the re-habilitation of the water supply system and the completion of hospital quarters already under construction and the build-ing of additional quarters. In point of numbers the fiscal year 1907 was the banner twelve-month period in was the banner twelve-month period in the history of the immigration service. Aliens to the number of 1,285,340 were ad-mitted, as compared with 1,100,735 in 1906. The total amount of money brought into the country by immigrants in the year was $25,500,000 or a givent of almost $20 the country by immigrants in the year was $25,599,000, or an average of almost $20 per person. Europe contributed 1,199,566 persons to the volume of immigration. More than 40,000 came from Asia, among them 30,000 Japanese and 961 Chinese.

It is estimated from 1820 to 1907 more than 25,000,000 aliens landed at ports of the United States. The proportions from each country during the entire period are as follows: United Kingdom, 30 per cent.; Germany, 21 per cent.; Scandinavia (Denmark, Norway and Sweden), 7 per cent.; Italy, 10 per cent.; Austria-Hungary, 10 per cent.; Russia, 8 per cent.; France, 2 per cent.; Switzerland, 1 per cent.; countries not specified, 9 per cent.

Referring to the "white slave traffic," or the importation of girls and women for immoral purposes, the Commissioner-Gereral of Immigration says:

This was among the first of the immigration evils to engage the attention of Congress, a section of the act of 1875 being devoted thereto. Its importance has increased in due proportion to the growth of immi-gration itself and no small part of the duties vent the importation and to effect the deportation of such persons and their procurers. There can be no denving the asserat least, there has been in recent years a marked decrease in this nefarious busines so appropriately termed the "white slave traffic." Reports reach the bureau from all Reports reach the bureau from all quarters, foreign and domestic, indicating that the combined efforts of those abroad and in this country interested in wiping out the disgraceful blot upon our Christian civilization have accomplished considerable, but bureau is satisfied from the experience of its field officers that much still remains to be done. The number of foreign prosti-tutes and procurers or importers of prostitutes being detected and deported furnishes incontrovertible evidence on this point.

The Commissioner-General urges that a number of thoroughly omified women equipped with a sufficient knowledge of foreign languages should be selected and appointed for service on the vessels of several of the larger steamship lines, their duty being to travel from foreign ports on the vessels with the alien women, mixing freely with them, forming their acquaintance and gathering every available bit of information concerning their antecedents and their purposes and hopes in coming to America. Thus could be ga ned, it is believed, often accurately and in detail, data which could be placed before the boards o special inquiry upon arrival at the United States ports, enabling such boards to pass intelligently upon the admissibility of the alien women.

Concerning needed improvements at the alien women.

Concerning needed improvements at the Ellis Island station Commissioner-General Sargent says:

The station first to be considered and discussed in any report bearing upon immigra tion is of course that located at Ellis Island, New York harbor. Through that port have come during the last year 1,004,758 of the 1,285,349 aliens admitted to the United States. The bureau has repeatedly drawn particular ittention to the utter inadequacy of the Ellis Island station to meet the unforeseen conditions that have arisen since the erection of the original building. Some extensive improvements and additions have been provided for notably the building of the new island ... the construction of a hospital thereon and the alteration and remodelling of the interior of the station; but to make the equip-ment what it should be will require further

The Commissioner renews his recommendation for the immediate construction of a refrigerating plant at a cost of $35,000 and a new ferryboat to cost $125,000.

To facilitate the proper handling of the baggage of arriving aliens by making available the new baggage room now in course of construction on the east end of the island the harbor in the vicinity of the baggage room, the Commissioner says, should be dredged so as to permit the docking of vessels immediately alongside. To do this work it is estimated that an appropriation of $65,000 will be required. He, also recommends an appropriation of $250,also recommends an appropriation of $250,-000 for additional hospital facilities and of $150,000 for completing and equipping the building for contagious diseases.
